CANFIELD, MAHONING COUNTY, O., FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1913.

NO. 6

WASHINGTONVILLE

Bright, breezy paragraphs telling the happenings in the village on Mahoning's Southern Border.

By Peter M. Herold

Shall this life of mine be wasted? Shall this vineyard lie untilled? Shall true joy pass by untaught?

This is the "Merry Month of May." Warren Wilson was home from Youngstown Sunday.

J. D. Smith and wife were in Youngstown Saturday.

The parochial school boys at Salem have entered the potato growing contest.

Columbiana county has needed a new jail for 50 sessions of the grand jury.

Harvey Baker was in Youngstown as a witness in court a few days the past week.

J. D. Woods spent Saturday and Sunday at the country home of Emma Enrtiken, south of Salem.

J. C. Eyster has material on the ground for a new kitchen in the rear of his dwelling on Main street.

Screen doors are going up, gardens are being made and the swish of carpet beaters are heard in the land.

Mrs. John Summerville of Garfield spent the past week at the home of her brother, Ed. Longbottom, and wife.

Bicycle riders and kids with coasters are taking unlimited privileges on the sidewalks. Let pedestrians beware.

David S. Calvin disposed of a barrel of fresh fish in this village last Friday, and will peddle fish every Friday all summer.

A large bunch of our male population went to Leontonia Friday night to become charter members of the order of Owls, at $5 each.

Wm. Holt made his round of the village this week as sanitary police. He visits and backyards need cleaning he will let you know.

Ed. Herman has greatly improved his newly purchased property on Maple Way by having it painted white, the lawn graded and gas installed.

The Green township S. S. Union met at Concord church last Sunday afternoon and had an enjoyable service. The next meeting will be held at Calla in July.

All Knights and Pythian Sisters are cordially invited to the dance in town hall Saturday night, May 3. All others should come with invitations presented at the door.

Walter C. Taylor, whose untimely death in a railroad accident we noticed three weeks ago, left a life insurance policy of $1,000 in favor of his mother in this village.

Manager J. K. Stitt has closed a contract with the Leontonia Steam Co. for the installation of a private branch telephone system with 20 stations in various parts of the plant.

With the exception of policemen, firemen and mechanics, the Tetlow bill, fixing an eight-hour day on all public work, was recommended for passage Monday afternoon by the labor committee of the Ohio senate.

It appears that the Supreme court will not be taken to the Supreme court, the time limit having expired. There are 7000 pages of stenographers' notes, and the entire record would cost over $5,000.

Miss Rhea Gilbert was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. S. V. Kennedy at Youngstown Saturday and Sunday. This is a salutary plan for a teacher to drive full care away and return to the school room invigorated.

John G. Smith owns the only motor cycle in this village. It is a "Marsh" machine and was bought second-hand in Leontonia, and with slight dating will answer all purposes. It attracted much attention from wheelmen on Sunday.

Columbiana county commissioners have ordered 124 bronze markers from the M. D. Jones Co. of Boston, for soldiers' graves in the different cemeteries over the county. There will be 34 of them with name plates attached, and be delivered in time for Decoration day.

Master Charles Matthey, son of Paul Matthey and wife, was 7 years young Wednesday, and on Saturday the event was celebrated with the house and lawn filled with children enjoying themselves with all the hilarity usually given to young America. A lunch and ice cream was served and everyone present had an enjoyable time.

Charles Snyder gained his damage case in Supreme court last Thursday, being awarded $4,500 for personal injuries. It will be remembered that Chas. Snyder and C. E. Holt were shot by an explosion both were seriously burned. The company settled with Holt, but Snyder's case was tried in court at Lisbon and his claim was allowed. Card & Prosser appealed to circuit court and the lower court was sustained. And now the Supreme court affirmed both courts on the ground that the company failed to sprinkle the mine as provided for by law. After a wait of more than three years Snyder gets justice.

Mr. H. L. Gearhart, Secretary of Laymen's Missionary Movement, will be at the Lutheran church Sunday morning and evening to superintend installing of that movement in the local congregation. At the morning service addresses will be made by Mr. Gearhart, the pastor and members of the council. At the evening service a report will be made of the days work and a special prayer service. An invitation is extended to attend these services and the members are all especially urged to be present so as to get the plan from first source.

A meeting of the men of the church is called for Saturday evening at the church to arrange for the Sunday afternoon. Since last Sunday evening the offering for flooded churches has been raised from $14.45 to $22.06.

Mrs. Harley Woods and Mrs. Thomas Mcintosh are on the sick list.

Frank Boston has commenced planting his 2-acre strawberry field.

Ralph Brain and family talk of locating at Whittier, Cal., the coming winter.

Mrs. Laura Grim was in Columbiana on Monday hanging paper for Mrs. Harvey Brock.

Glenn Everett of Cortland spent Sunday at the home of his uncle, David Klingsmith.

The proper dress for commencement is receiving some attention as the snow draws nigh.

A delegation of Foresters from here attended the funeral of Ben. Clark in Greenford Sunday forenoon.

Susie, the Millville bank mule, came in contact with a live wire last Saturday and was instantly killed.

Mrs. Samuel Rohrer entertained the Home sewing circle last Friday night when Mrs. David Summerville won the honors.

Ansel Senheiser was off work at the Co-op store for a few days with rheumatism. J. S. Davis drove the delivery wagon.

A. L. Taylor, Glen Smedley and Clifford Davis attended a meeting of Erie telegraph operators in Youngstown on Sunday.

John Black and wife of Cleveland have located here to keep house for her father, John Schaffner and grandson, Wm. Young.

Mrs. Irena Calvin, widow of the late Dr. Calvin, and Jonas Roller of Salem were here last week Thursday looking after cemetery work.

Salem has an ordinance for trimming shade trees along their sidewalks. This was talked of several times by our village council, but no action was taken.

Women can have their hats, and rats, pulled off by overhanging limbs in the same old way. It requires nearly as much effort to pass an ordinance as it would to trim the trees.

James M. Atkinson has moved into the west end of the Louis Herrman property, recently used for temporary school purposes, which he has purchased. The remainder of the house will soon be vacated by Dick Dunn, who will occupy the house vacated by Moses Grindle, who in turn occupies the house just vacated by J. M. Atkinson—there being a sort of merry-go-round in moving.

The little village of Newhouse, lying one mile beyond Elletts, is doing well, and within short time there will be nothing but empty houses in the place. Three weeks ago a disastrous fire burned the big power house at the mines of the Duquesne Coal company in that village, and that being the only industry of the little hamlet, the miners there have been awaiting the decision of the owners to determine whether they shall remain in Newhouse.

Charles T. Pamphrey, aged about 44 years, died at his home in Minerva Monday morning at 7 o'clock. Death was due to enlargement of the spleen from which he had been a sufferer for several months. He is survived by his wife and four children, all at home. For the past 15 years he had been station agent at Minerva and was a highly respected citizen of that place. He was a nephew of I. N. Russell of Salem and Howard Russell of Washingtonville. Funeral Wednesday forenoon in charge of Knist Templar Masons.

Among the reunions already announced for the future are—Saturday, June 14, Greenwald family at Damascus; Friday, Aug. 1, Calladina family, Pine hollow; Saturday, Aug. 2, Davis family, with Mrs. Viola Baker, Washingtonville; Saturday, Aug. 9, Huffman family, in Washingtonville town hall; Prosper Moll family, in Moll's grove; Thursday, Aug. 4, Bowman family, Leontonia; Thursday, Aug. 21, Calvin family, Locust Grove, Roler family, Stop 9, Y. & O. R.; Saturday, Aug. 30, Longbottom, at home of John Summerville near Garfield; Tuesday, Sept. 2, Frederick family, Rockhill; and, Saturday, Sept. 13, Ind. Others will be noticed when the dates are fixed.

"The Flood Disaster Along the Ohio Watershed" was the subject of Hon. Percy Tetlow's address in the Lutheran church Sunday night. The church was well filled to hear the speaker, some coming from Leontonia. And although the people had been kept well posted concerning the flood and its disaster by the newspapers at the time, yet they desired to hear the facts from one who told it from personal observation. The program was well prepared and the audience was favored with special music by the choir, a male quartet composed of Edwin Johnson, Clarence Baker, John G. Smith and Rev. L. W. Gross gave a recitation that was enjoyable. The collection at the close of the meeting amounted to $11.45 and will be forwarded to the committee in charge of the work of helping church-people who sustained losses from the flood and tornado. It appears that the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man is being believed, and that the Macedonian cry: "Come and help us" is being cheerfully answered everywhere.

Thomas J. Heaton reached the 75th milestone in life's journey last Friday, and the only one to break the monotony was a visit from his daughter, Mrs. Helen Heckert of Salem. He was born west of Salem in Perry township on the 25th of April, 1838, and enlisted in Co. G, 104th regiment O. V. I. when 24 years of age, serving with credit during the war between the states, his regiment being credited with having engaged in fourteen battles, including the siege of Knoxville, Tenn., from Nov. 17 to Dec. 4, 1863, and the siege of Atlanta, Ga., from July 28 to Sept. 2, 1864. He was mustered out of service with his company June 17, 1865, and now, under the new pension law, is entitled to $30 a month. The other members of that regiment in this locality are his brother Charles L. Heaton, W. A. and J. D. Woods, who have not yet reached the "age limit" for an increase of pensions. The Colonel of this regiment was the late Gen. James V. Kelley of Wellsville, whose personal property has been sought through courts by many claimants. The 104th Regt. was part of the 23d Army Corps.

Paradoxical. When fashions change for men The newest fashion bears the brunt. The little bow behind the hat is coming to the front.

—Houston Post.

Mayor B. F. Hennacy of Lisbon is taking options on 200 acres of coal land in Elkrun township and more than 3,500 acres at Salineville. He will not form any company for the purpose of mining coal, but simply hold the land as an investment.

The houses located on the lots in Leontonia that were recently bought for the new steel plant are being dismantled and hauled away in sections and others are being moved bodily. Houses that cost $1,500 to build are being sold for $200 or less.

Miss Eria Leightenstein, teacher in the Lisbon public schools, is off duty on account of having sustained a severe cold. Another while walking about her bedroom she stepped on a shattered gaitlight globe and her foot was so severely cut that the services of a physician were necessary.

The newly enacted Greenwald law requires all boys to attend school until they are fifteen years old and girls until sixteen. Another law requires that teachers must be paid twice a month instead of once, as in the past; thus making additional work on making up the payroll. Cities are required to have separate schools for deaf and blind children.

The house finance bill introduced in the legislature at Columbus Monday provides for the payment of $3,500 to attorney Chas. C. Connel; $3,825 to attorney W. H. Spence and $500 to attorney W. S. Potts, all of Lisbon, in full settlement for services in behalf of the state in the contest for the fortune left by General James W. Reilly, at his death in Wallyville, Pa.

Arrangements have been made for a special rate on cars to the Sunday school convention at East Liverpool Thursday and Friday of this week. There will be a special rate on the 5 o'clock car at all stops between Salem and East Liverpool, Thursday evening, and also on the 5 o'clock car Friday morning and 5 o'clock car in the evening. Rev. B. F. Rhodes, who makes the leading address at the convention Friday evening, is one of the finest Bible class workers in the country. On Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock the delegates will be taken through the potteries of the city.
